RECENT PROJECTS

torrey studios

Freelance | WordPress Development | September 2016

I built this WordPress site from the bottom up, with a custom theme using HTML5, CSS3, and Bootstrap.

The site includes contact form, scheduling, and security plugins. I have a few things left to do, including some issues with responsiveness.

Leelanau County Democrats

Freelance | WordPress Development | September 2016

A subcontracting gig, this is a WordPress Site that I am currently working on. This has been a fun little WordPress project.

Cell Phone Store

Freelance | Fullstack Development | June 2016

It's not pretty, but this site has tons of functionality. The client-facing pages allow customers to register, login, get quotes, make sales, track transaction history, and message the company. The admin pages allow the company to manage sales, customers, and devices.

This project is built with Javascript, Angular, Express, Node, MongoDB, Bootstrap, and SweetAlert.

EXPERIENCE

Web Developer

Freelance | East Lansing, MI | July 2016-Present

Building web applications with the MEAN stack and building custom WordPress sites featuring custom themes. My freelance work is focused on responsive design and sweet UI experiences to help clients drive traffic, develop loyal customers, and meet business objectives.

Code Mentor

Coding House | Fremont, CA | May-July 2016

Teaching and guiding bootcamp students to become proficient in self-directed learning and debugging of javascript and MEAN stack web applications.

Philosophy Professor

Eastern Michigan University | Ypsilanti, MI | 2010 – 2016

Facilitating engaged instruction in logic, philosophy, feminist theory, and ethics courses. I guide students to think critically about current events and issues, and apply their knowledge in real life cases.

Owner-Operator

Flowers And More | Tampa, FL | 2000-2008

Oversee all operations including hiring, training, marketing, purchasing, and quality assurance. I started this business with $200, built it to nearly $1 million in annual revenue, and sold it in 2006.
